If you provided a phone number, you agree that you own or are authorized to provide that number, and you understand that you shall indemnify us for any costs and expenses, including reasonable attorneys' fees, incurred as a result of us attempting to contact you at the number(s). Your consent allows us and any companies working on our behalf to service your account, to use any means to contact you including: automated dialing devices, prerecorded/artificial voice messages, mail, e-mail, text messages, push notifications, and calls to your cell phone, or any other data or voice transmission technology. You are responsible for any service provider charges you may incur as a result of us contacting you by any means, whether such charges are related to text, data, equipment or other plans. You will promptly notify us if you change any contact information, including your name, mailing address, e-mail addresses, or phone numbers. If you have a joint Account, a notice to one of you will serve as a notice to both of you. We may use voice recognition technology to verify your identity when you call. We may capture and store your voiceprint for this purpose. We may monitor and record any calls between you and us.

(4) Using Your Account. You may use your consumer credit card Account for Purchases, Balance Transfers, Cash Advances and any other transactions we allow. Your credit card may not be used to make a payment on any other Lindell Bank credit account.

Third Party/Mobile Devices. You or an authorized user may be permitted to load your credit card to an app on a smart phone, tablet or other electronic device, such as, through a mobile wallet, which could be used for purchases or other transactions without presenting the card. Any such Transactions are covered by this Agreement. We have no control over the device and cannot guarantee the performance of the device.

Additionally:

- You should protect the security of the device the same as your credit card or other valuable information.
- There may be third party fees related to the transaction such as mobile carrier data or messaging charges.
- We may, at any time, partially or fully restrict your ability to make credit transactions through a third party/mobile device. You agree to notify us promptly if you remove or want to remove your Account information from any third party/mobile device.

(5) Authorized Users. If you wish to have an additional Card issued in another person's name, please contact us and we will send you a Card with the name of the authorized person embossed on the front of the Card. You are responsible for payment of the entire amount owed to us, including any Purchases, Balance Transfers or Cash Advances (and all related interest and fees) made by the authorized person.

Ending Authorized User Privileges. If you want to end an authorized user's privilege to use your Account, you must:

- Recover and destroy that person's Card. If you do not, you will continue to be liable for any charges made, even if you've advised us of your wish to cancel the privileges, unless you tell us to cancel all Cards and establish a new Account for you.
- You must notify us of your request by contacting us at the number on the back of your Card or by mail at Lindell Bank, 5500 Mexico Road, St. Peters Mo 63376

In general, an authorized person is not obligated on this Account and is not liable for any Outstanding Balance or any other charges made by you or by any other authorized person. In the event of the death of all fully liable cardholders, authorized users' privilege ends automatically. After that, if any person uses the Card, such use indicates his or her agreement to pay us, and we may, at our discretion, pursue the person for payment of any Outstanding Balance or any other charges they authorize. You agree to notify each authorized person that they are subject to all applicable sections of this Agreement.

Information about Authorized Users. You agree to give us certain personal information about each authorized user. You must have permission from each authorized user allowing you to give us that personal information. This may include name, address, social security number / Individual Taxpayer Identification Number, date of birth and citizenship.

(6) Lost or Stolen Cards and Liability for Unauthorized Use, and Zero Liability Protection. You must notify us immediately if your Card or account information is lost or stolen, or if you believe it's being used without your permission. You may contact us by phone at 636-441-1600 or in writing at Lindell Bank, 5500 Mexico Road, St. Peters MO 63376. You agree to assist us in our investigation of the matter. If you do this and we find you not responsible, you will not be held liable for the unauthorized use of your Account.

(7) Promise to Pay. When you use your Account or let someone else use it, you promise to pay the total amount of the Purchases, Cash Advances, and Balance Transfers, plus all interest, fees and other amounts that you may owe us. We may limit or close your Account, but the terms of this Agreement will apply until you pay the Account in full.

(8) Credit Limit. We may assign the following limits to your Account:

Cash Advance Limit. We may restrict the amount of your credit limit that can be used for Cash Advances.

Your total credit limit will be provided with your Credit Card and shows on each of your billing statements. You promise to use your Account only to the limits. If you exceed your total credit limit, we may allow the transaction without increasing your total credit limit or deny the transaction. If we allow the transaction, we may treat that over limit amount as due with the minimum payment on your next statement. If you exceed the limits, you will still remain liable for all credit you receive. We can adjust your credit limit at any time, including automatic credit line increases for those who qualify.

(9) Authorizations. We don't guarantee approval of transactions. We reserve the right to deny transactions for any reason, such as account default, suspected fraudulent or unlawful activity, internet gambling, or any indication of increased risk related to the transaction. If you engage in abuse, misuse or gaming in connection with earning or using points or attempt to do so, we may close or restrict your Lindell Bank credit card(s). Abuse, misuse or gaming includes, but is not limited to, making multiple purchases and multiple payments during a billing cycle whereby the dollar amount for each purchase in the aggregate substantially exceeds your credit limit. We also may limit the number of authorizations we allow during a period of time. Transactions at some merchants (such as hotels, car rental companies, restaurants, and gas stations) may result in temporary authorizations for amounts greater than the actual Purchase amount. This will make less credit available on your Account for several days, usually until the date the actual Purchase amount is received from the merchant.

If you give your credit card information to a merchant to bill your account for recurring payments, or to keep it on file for future purchases or payments, and your card number, expiration date, or security code changes, you should notify the merchant with your new card information. Some card networks provide update services and receive updated card information from Lindell Bank. Merchants that participate in such services will receive updated card information from the network for credit cards that you have provided to the merchant for recurring or future purchases or payments. We cannot tell you which merchant will receive updated card information when your card information changes. You should always provide each merchant with your new card information because some merchants do not subscribe to such network services.

Changes to this Agreement

(10) Change in terms. We may change this Agreement at any time. These changes may apply to existing and future balances. We will give you advance written notice of the changes and a right to reject the changes if required by law. We may require you to close your Account or take other actions if you reject the changes.

Fees and Interest

(11) Fees. The following fees may apply to your account. If they do apply, you will find the amount in the Important Terms of Your Credit Card Account. You agree to pay any fees that apply.

- Annual Fee. If your account has an annual fee it will be charged each year your account is open. The annual fee will not be billed after your Account is closed.
- Balance Transfer Fee. This fee may be charged on a Balance Transfer transaction.
- Cash Advance Fee. This fee may be charged on a Cash Advance from your Account.
- Late Fee. This fee may be charged each time we do not receive the required Minimum Payment due by the Payment Due Date.
- Rush Plastic Fee. $50.00 This fee may be charged if you requested expedited delivery for your credit card.

Additional fees may be charged if agreed between you and us. All fees will be added to the Purchases balance, except Cash Advance fees which will be added to the Cash Advance balance on your Account.

(12) Foreign Currency Transactions. If you make a transaction in a currency other than U.S. dollars using a Visa Card, then Visa International "Visa" will convert the charge into a U.S. dollar amount. The exchange rate between the transaction currency and the billing currency used for processing international transactions is either (a) a rate selected by Visa from the range of rates available in wholesale currency markets for the applicable central processing date, which rate may vary from the rate Visa itself receives, or (b) the government-mandated rate in effect for the applicable central processing date. The currency conversion rate for the processing date may differ from the rate in effect on the date of the transaction or the date the transaction is posted to your Account. No foreign currency conversion fee is charged by the bank.

Point of Sale Conversion. Some merchants outside the United States offer cardholders the option of having Card transactions converted to U.S. dollars by Visa, as described above, or by the merchant itself. If the latter option is chosen, the currency conversion rate is determined solely by the merchant involved in the transaction, and no foreign currency conversion fee is charged by the bank for the transaction.

(13) Rates. The following sections describe how we calculate the interest you owe each Billing Period. The Important Terms of Your Credit Card Account list the APRs that apply to different types of balances.

Introductory Rates. Your account may be eligible for introductory rates. This would be described in the Important Terms of Your Credit Card Account. If you are offered a promotional rate after your account is opened, the terms will be provided at that time. After any introductory or promotional rates expire, the remaining balances will be subject to the applicable Standard or Standard Variable APR terms.

How we Calculate your Standard Variable APRs. If your account has a variable rate the APR will vary based on the U.S. Prime Rate plus the applicable "Margin". See the Important Terms of Your Credit Card Account for the "Margin" on Purchases, Balance Transfers, Cash Advances, and overdraft protection advances, and daily periodic rates that apply to your Account. For each Billing Period, we use the U.S. Prime Rate or the average of the U.S. Prime Rates (if there is more than one) published in the "Money Rates" column of The Wall Street Journal. If the U.S. Prime Rate is no longer published or is not available, we may select a similar index. A change in the APR may increase or decrease the total amount of interest you pay and your Minimum Payment due. If the APR changes due to a change in the U.S. Prime Rate, the new APR will apply to both existing and future balances on the first day of your Billing Cycle. The APR will continue to vary even if your Account is closed.

Standard APRs. If your Account is subject to Standard APRs, the Standard APRs will not vary with the market based on the U. S. Prime Rate. However, we may change the Standard APRs from time to time in accordance with the Change in Terms information described in section 10. The rates that apply to your account are listed in the Important Terms of Your Credit Card Account.

Daily Periodic Rates. The daily periodic rates are calculated by dividing each applicable APR by 365.

(14) Minimum Interest Charge. Your account may have a Minimum Interest Charge. See the Important Terms of Your Credit Card Account for the applicable charge.

(15) When we Charge Interest. For most transactions, interest will be charged beginning on the date a transaction is made on your account. We charge interest on a fee beginning on the first day of the Billing Cycle following the Billing Cycle in which the fee posted to your Account.

(16) Here's how and when specific Transactions, fees and credits are applied:

- We add the amount of a Purchase or Balance Transfer to the Purchase balance as of the transaction date shown on your statement.
- We add Balance Transfer fees to the Purchase balance as of the transaction date shown on your statement.
- We add the amount of a Cash Advance to the Cash Advance balance as of the transaction date shown on your statement.
- We add Cash Advance Fees to the Cash Advance balance as of the transaction date shown on your statement.

- We add the amount of any Overdraft Protection advance to the Cash Advance balance as of the transaction date shown on your statement.

(17) How we Calculate Interest: Interest Charge Calculation Methods (ICM) and Computation of Balance Subject to Interest Rate. The Interest Charge Calculation Method applicable to your account for Cash Advances and Credit Purchases of goods and services that you obtain through the use of your card are specified on your statement and explained below:

METHOD A: Average Daily Balance (including new transactions). The Interest Charge on purchases begins from the date the transactions is posted to your account, and the Interest Charge on cash advances begins from the date you obtained the cash advance, or the first day of the billing cycle in which it is posted to your account, whichever is later. There is no grace period. The Interest Charges for a billing cycle are computed by applying the Periodic Rate to the “average daily balance” of your account. To get the average daily balance, we take the beginning balance of your account each day, add any new purchases or cash advances, and subtract any payments, credits, non-accruing fees, and unpaid interest charges. This gives us the daily balance. Then we add up all the daily balances for the billing cycle and divide the total by the number of days in the billing cycle.

METHOD E: Average Daily Balance (excluding new transactions). To avoid incurring an additional Interest Charge on the balance of purchases (and cash advances if Method E is specified as applicable to cash advances) reflected on your monthly statement, you must pay the entire “New Balance” in full, shown on your monthly statement on or before the Payment Due Date. The Interest Charges for a billing cycle are computed by applying the Periodic Race to the “average daily balance” of purchases (and if applicable, cash advances). To get the average daily balance, we take the beginning balance of your account each day (excluding new transactions) and subtract any payments, credits, non-accruing fees, and unpaid interest charges. This gives us the daily balance. The we add up all the daily balances for the billing cycle and divide the total by the number of days in the billing cycle.

METHOD G: Average Daily Balance (including new transactions). To avoid incurring additional Interest Charges on the balance of purchases (and cash advances, reflected on your monthly statement and, on any new purchases (and if applicable, cash advances) appearing on your next monthly statement, you must pay the entire “New Balance”, in full, shown on your monthly statement on or before Payment Due Date. The Interest Charges for a billing cycle are computed by applying the Periodic Rate to the “average daily balance” of purchases (and if applicable, cash advances). To get the average daily balance, we take the beginning balance of your account each day, add any new purchases or cash advances, and subtract any payments, credits, non-accruing fees, and unpaid interest charges. This gives us the daily balance.

Payment Crediting and Credit Balance: Payments received by 5PM at the location specified by the front of the statement after the phrase “Please Mail Your Payments to”: will be credited as of the date of receipt to the account specified on the payment coupon. Payments made in person during normal business hours at the branch locations where such payments are accepted will be treated as received on the same day. Payments that do not conform to the requirements set forth on or with the periodic statement (e.g. missing payment stub, payment envelops other than as provided with your statement, multiple checks or multiple coupons in the same envelope) may be subject to delay in crediting, but shall be credited within five days of receipt. If there is a credit balance due on your account, you may request, in writing, a full refund. Submit your request to the address on the front of your statement after the phrase “Please send Billing Inquiries and Correspondence to”.

Billing Statements and Payments

(19) Billing Statements. If you have a balance on your account you will receive a billing statement. Your billing statement will show your Minimum Payment due and the Payment Due Date.

Payments made through Lindell Bank Online at mycardstatement.com will be credited based on the cutoff time disclosed at the time of the transaction. If you do not follow these instructions your payment may not be credited for up to five days after we receive it.

Checks or other paper documents may be converted to an electronic transaction through procedures established by the National Automated Clearing House Association. In this case, the original check or other document that you send to us will not be retained, but a copy would be available if requested.
Some of your available line of credit may be held, at our discretion, until your payment is honored.

You cannot pay this account using a Lindell Bank credit or loan account or any Lindell Bank affiliated company credit or loan account. You cannot use any convenience checks to make any payment on this account.

Generally, we will apply your Minimum Payment first to lower APR balances (such as Purchases) before balances with higher APRs (such as Cash Advances). Payments made in excess of the Minimum Payment will be applied to balances with higher APRs first before balances with lower ones.
We post payments to the Billing Cycle within which they are received. Any payment in excess of the Minimum Payment due is applied based on the balances reflected on your last billing statement.

To use this right, all of the following must be true:

1. The purchase must have been made in your home state or within 100 miles of your current mailing address, and the purchase price must have been more than $50. (Note: Neither of these are necessary if your purchase was based on an advertisement we mailed to you, or if we own the company that sold you the goods or services.)
2. You must have used your credit card for the purchase. Purchases made with cash advances from an ATM or with a check that accesses your credit card account do not qualify.
3. You must not yet have fully paid for the purchase.

If all of the criteria above are met and you are still dissatisfied with the purchase, contact us in writing at:

Lindell Bank

While we investigate, the same rules apply to the disputed amount as discussed above. After we finish our investigation, we will tell you our decision. At that point, if we think you owe an amount and you do not pay, we may report you as delinquent.
